

Medbox, Inc. Featured on CNBC

1/10/2013 Hollywood, CA. Medbox, Inc. (OTC Markets: MDBX) (www.medboxinc.com), announced that Dr. Bruce Bedrick, CEO of Medbox, Inc., will be a featured guest on Closing Bell with Maria Bartiromo on the CNBC network – airing both nationally and internationally at 4:30pm EST on January 10, 2013.

Bedrick plans on discussing the company's recent stock rise as well as Medbox's continued growth as a leader in medicine dispensing technology. The company is noted for having industry-leading technology that promotes inventory control, transparency, and accurate tax reporting in the dispensing of a myriad of medications.

Yesterday, in a separate interview with the BBC, Vincent Mehdizadeh, Founder and Senior Consultant at Medbox, Inc, commented on how Medbox can help governments and state boards monitor and receive accurate taxes from the sale of legal marijuana. With some reports stating the legal marijuana business could generate as much as $20 billion in annual revenues, it is important that all sales are handled in a meticulously transparent method. As a behind-the-counter dispensing and compliance tool for dispensary operators, Medbox systems have the ability to link directly to state systems for complete, real-time reporting, while still being HIPAA compliant by keeping patient information private.

Closing Bell airs from 3-5pm EST on CNBC. Dr. Bedrick will be featured in the 4:30 pm EST time slot today.

About Medbox, Inc:

Medbox is a leader in the development, sales and service of automated, biometrically controlled dispensing and storage systems for medicine and merchandise. Medbox has offices throughout the world, including New York, Arizona, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Tokyo, London and Toronto, and has their corporate headquarters in Los Angeles.

Medbox provides their patented systems, software and consulting services to pharmacies, dispensaries, urgent care centers, drug rehab clinics, hospitals, prison systems, hospice facilities, and medical groups worldwide.

Medbox, Inc. is a publicly traded company, and is quoted on the OTC Markets, ticker symbol MDBX.

For more information on Medbox, please contact the Medbox Investor Relations Department at (800) 762-1452 or go online to www.medboxinc.com.